CAUTION

Brian Michael Jones is wanted for the kidnapping and rape of a woman in Las Vegas, Nevada. In August of 1999, the victim's car became inoperable in the desert sand. Jones reportedly approached the victim and told her that he could pull her car out of the sand with his truck which was at his house. The victim then went with Jones to his house. But, instead of getting his truck, it is alleged that Jones held the victim hostage for several hours while he raped and performed other sexual acts on her. The victim was eventually able to escape and run to safety.

In September of 1999, Jones was arrested in Clark County, Nevada for sexual assault, kidnapping, and battery with intent to commit a crime. However, he was released on bail in November of 1999. Jones failed to make a court appearance in 2000, and a federal arrest warrant was subsequently issued by the United States District Court, District of Nevada, charging Jones with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.
